Application: Toyota A240L Series 1985-Up
Subject: Valve Body Gasket Revision

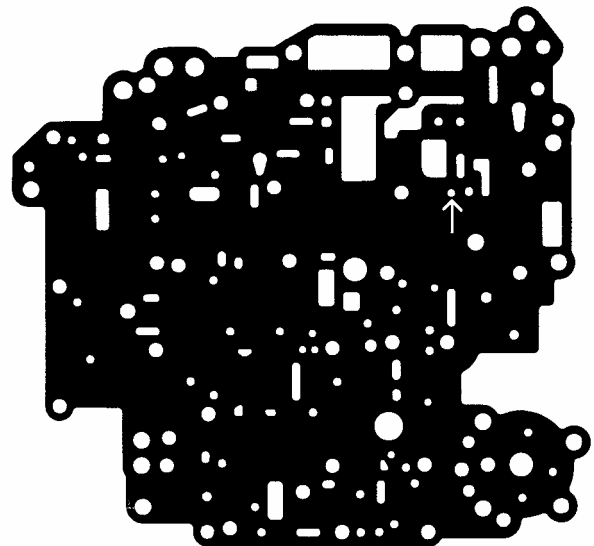

Toyota has made a second running change to the upper valve body gasket used on the A240L series units only. Please note that Toyota has kept the same OEM part number for this gasket, and that the latest design part will retrofit all previous models.

The following illustrations point out the changes made at each revision level. TransTec part #36192 is the current design level part and is included in all applicable TransTec gasket sets and overhaul kits with a date code of C04 and later.
